

Day 4 journal entry

Matthew Madewell

Prompt option 3: What are your main takeaways from this first half of your internship and how do you plan to carry those lessons into your second week?

My main takeaways from the first half of my internship are that networking is very important and documentation of the process is a necessity. I plan to continue to meet new people throughout the rest of my internship and ask them questions about their job, their journey, and what they enjoy doing. For documenting the process, I plan to keep writing journal entries to document the process of my internship and I also plan to comment throughout my code, so I can come back to it later and know how the different parts of the code function.
