Prompt option 3: What are some of the differences you've noticed between a school environment and a professional work environment?

In a school environment, you often work by yourself with guidance from teachers, while in a professional setting, teamwork and communication are the main essentials. At work, the code you write goes through reviews and testing before reaching users, which adds a layer of responsibility. Also, real-world projects are more complex and open ended compared to classroom assignments.
